

* PP Tuning case savers for R6 are designed to minimize engine damage from crashes, and give you enough time to get back to the pits without worrying about losing oil * case savers are easy to install, without any need to remove the factory engine case covers, gaskets, or fairings, you only add our company covers * they also offer a great look and will separate your bike from all others * case savers are milled from one piece of hardened aluminium alloy 7075-T6 * special lightening guarantees minimum weight and maximum strength *

* PP Tuning case savers for R6 are designed to minimize engine damage from crashes, and give you enough time to get back to the pits without worrying about losing oil * case savers are easy to install, without any need to remove the factory engine case covers, gaskets, or fairings, you only add our company covers * they also offer a great look and will separate your bike from all others * case savers are milled from one piece of hardened aluminium alloy 7075-T6 * special lightening guarantees minimum weight and maximum strength *

