Product Catalog
2018

Our motto is - We only find delicious! - Sydney & Frances began more than a decade ago with a few bottles of olive oil from West Australia. The founder, Elizabeth Wieker, who is coming from Australia, imported gourmet products from Down Under and made them indispensable for the European market. The product assortment is continually being expanded to offer the best from all over the world: sauces, mayonnaise and mustard specialties, fruits and flowers, salts and spices, oils and dressings, baking ingredients, beverages and much more.

Our focus is only to find ingredients that not only look good but also taste good.

We wish you much pleasure in discovering your favourite products.

Harvesting sea salt, the traditional way. You could contend that Maldon Salt is really made by nature, with just a little helping hand from man to release it from the clutches of the environment. Certainly the 'process', if you can call it that, is about as natural as these things can be.

Seawater is filtered and boiled which, reassuringly, removes any impurities, and then heated until the salt crystallises. If this sounds easy, there's an art in temperature and timing and, the traditional 'drawing' of the salt by hand from the pans, that confounds anyone without a salt maker's skills. The result, for those with the know-how is the pure white crisp clean crystals that can only be Maldon salt.

Murray River Salt Flakes are coming from the pristine mineralized brines from ancient saline aquifers of the Murray Darling basin. The stunning pale pink hue of the salt flakes is a result of the mineralized brines which are particularly high in magnesium, calcium, and to a lesser degree, potassium and iodine. Murray River Salt Flakes® are very soft and fragile and are perfect to be used as a finishing salt which will add a subtle and sweet flavour to any dish.

OLD TEXAS

Original

Their legendary "Old Texas BBQ Sauce" is not quite from Texas, but from the not much less sunnier California. It is legendary not just because of its unique and aromatic taste, but also because of the origin of the base recipe. This powerful delicacy dates back to the year 1850 – a time when massive flocks of cattle blazed their trail regularly from El Paso to San Antonio. Aware of their tradition and unwilling to compromise the quality of their products, the manufacturer "Food Imagineering" abdicates from artificial preservatives, flavour enhancers and non-natural colours. With four additional flavours – from spicy to mild – their range includes something for every cowboy. Let your taste buds travel to the Old Wild West of America - Yehaaa!

MAN FOOD

Manfood is a new range of great tasting foods that are simply made and packed with flavour: no flavourings, no additives, no messing. Manfood is just that: the kind of simple, great tasting food that blokes can grab out of the cupboard and enjoy with cheeses, cold cuts, pies or meat. It's the perfect accompaniment to a fridge buffet, and a must have for your barbecue.

Created by Andre Dang, a former buyer for Harrods and Selfridges, Manfood came about as a direct result of family complaining about a lack of the perfect crisp, chunky pickles.

The name The Foraging Fox was inspired by and in memory of Frankie's father, Roland Fox, the original "Foraging Fox", a plant and mushroom expert. Frankie's childhood was an idyllic one, growing, identifying and foraging plants with Dad, and learning to cook things up with Mum.

The Foraging Fox Beetroot Ketchup started out as a kitchen project with her kids to find a way to use their bumper crops of apples and beetroot! The Beetroot ketchup was the result of finding new ways to enjoy home-grown fruit and vegetables. After all, you don't waste good food – you just become more inventive with it! The ketchup took 3 years to make and we hope you enjoy every mouthful!
