RAHMEN	The new Enduro features a full-carbon frameset, boasting 170mm of suspension travel in an all-new design that increases your control and speed over the roughest sections of trail, yet also boasts exceptional pedaling efficiency. We've also given the new Enduro aggressive "long, low and slack" geometry for a more balanced and confident feel at speed. Finally, you'll find a host of smart details, including our SWAT™ Door downtube-storage integration, a creak-free threaded BB, and painless internal cable routing.
